Add extra info here if needed.

Becoming a Youth Ambassador to Children of Peace is a huge honour and privilege. If you are selected, we hope you will work hard for the children.

This is by raising funds for us, building awareness of our work for peace and actively promoting our message in everything you do.

Whilst doing this, you will be expected to uphold the highest possible personal standards as a representative of Children of Peace.

You will be expected to meet goals and act responsibly at all times, setting high standards as a role model for other young people worldwide.

Thank you for taking the time to complete this form. Click 'Send' and Adobe will connect with the 'Serif' server in the UK. You will probably be asked to give permission for this. But first check you have answered all the questions. And save a copy for yourself.

Your information will then be forwarded to us as an email. Other documents should be sent as attachments to: info@childrenofpeace.org.uk

- i. Your curriculum vitae (career to date).
- ii. Permission from an appropriate adult if aged under 16.
- iii. A photograph of yourself (size under 2MB).

Do try to include your name as part of each attachment ID.

We'll be in contact with you shortly.

COMMITMENT

This application is subject to the approval of the Youth Ambassador Directorate, and if appointed, you agree to work for an initial twelve months in support of the goals of the organisation.

Children of Peace reserves the right to withdraw this honour if you engage in activities that will discredit this role.

As a Youth Ambassador, you will be expected to commit your time and resources to the mission of Children of Peace. The role of Youth Ambassador is a voluntary position and does not imply employment by the organisation or any affiliated agencies.

Completing and submitting this application does not guarantee acceptance by the Directorate.
